

BRAD BRUUN

City of Monona, Wisconsin

Brad Bruun has been working as the City of Monona's Department of Public Works project manager and GIS specialist since November 2015. Brad also serves as the City's sustainability and facilities project coordinator. He has a B.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin-Madison in urban and environmental geography along with a capstone certificate in GIS. Brad is the City's participating member on the Municipal Projects Group as part of the Dane County Council on Climate Change. He is also the City's participating member with Green Tier Legacy Communities and is the staff liaison on the City of Monona's sustainability committee. He has worked with the Wisconsin Department of Energy on analyzing the City's third-party-financed solar project and has attended past WPUI seminars on public utility law and community-based solar.